

Relationships

Aim

- I understand what a loving relationship is and that there are many types of relationships.

Success Criteria

- I understand the terms associated with love, relationships and sexual orientation.
- I appreciate that people differ in terms of sexual orientation and who they love.
- I can describe what makes a loving relationship.

The Big Questions

What is a loving relationship?

What kinds of loving relationships are there?

Reconnecting

What words and phrases spring to mind when you think about these big questions?

What do you think of when you think of the term 'loving relationship'?

What different types of relationships can you think of?

With your talk partner, create a mind map or chart of ideas, jotting down any words and phrases you think might be useful for today's lesson. It is OK to use any vocabulary you know relating to relationships.

Relationships

Useful vocabulary for today's lesson...

lesbian gay

same-sex

adopted

race

age

religion

homosexual

heterosexual

parent

siblings

disabled

love

Exploring

Loving Relationships

We are going to start the lesson by watching a video.

It is called 'Love Has No Labels'. What do you think that could mean?

Whilst watching, think about the different types of relationships featured in the video.

You might like to try using some of the vocabulary we have just looked at to describe some of the relationships you see.

Love Has No Labels

Please check the content in this link, including any comments, is suitable for your educational environment before showing. Please do not let the next video automatically play at the end of the clip. Twinkl accepts no responsibility for the content of third party websites.

Loving Relationships

What did you think of the video?

Talk to your partner about the different types of relationships you observed and make a list together.

Were there any relationships that surprised you?

How did the crowd react to the different types of relationships?

Would you have reacted the same way, if you had been there?

Loving Relationships

These girls love each other.

This girl loves her friend.

This mother loves her baby.

This elderly couple are in love.

This couple love each other and their child.

These men are in a loving relationship.

Loving Relationships

A loving relationship can be between friends, members of a family or couples.

There are many types of loving relationships. We have different sorts of relationships with different people in our lives, at different times.

Whilst loving relationships may involve different combinations of people, they will all have some things in common.

With your talk partner, list things that you think a loving relationship has or needs.

Loving Relationships

Elements of a loving relationship – no matter who is in the relationship...

advice

commitment honesty

care

affection

loyalty

trust

communication

kindness

fairness

shared interests

consideration

help

time respect

common goals

support

Loving Relationships

A loving relationship between two people is mutual and consensual.

This means that both people in the relationship want to be in the relationship.

Forcing someone to marry is a crime. Unfortunately, this does sometimes happen, but there is support available to prevent and protect people from being forced into marriage.

Loving Relationships

So, what have we learnt?

Consolidating

Reflecting

Recipe for a Loving Relationship

Create a recipe for a 'loving relationship'.

Use phrases that we associate with recipes, such as:

- a dash of...
- a sprinkle of...
- plenty of...
- lots of...
- stir in some...
- pour in...

Can you add a note about what should definitely not be added to the recipe?

Loving Relationships

Create a recipe for a loving relationship. Consider what a relationship needs for both people to be happy and why those things are important.

Write in the style of a recipe and use recipe language eg. a dash of support, for when times are tough.

You will need:

Method:

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

9. _____

10. _____

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License

twinkl.com

Loving Relationships

Reflect quietly on the following questions...

What do all the loving relationships we have seen today in the video and images have in common?

Why would people want to be in a loving relationship?

The Big Questions

What is a loving relationship?

What kinds of loving relationships are there?

